The Final Straw!

It's easy to understand why choosing an alternative to single-use plastic straws is not just a craze.

Why is it so important to make use of sustainable alternatives?

- It can take up to 200 years for a plastic straw to decompose.
- Straws are one of the most common waste materials found in our oceans.
- The effects of throwing a simple plastic straw into the trash today will impact the environment for generations to come.
